TWO CENTS

STOCKDALE MAN ARRESTED AND HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGES

AUTOMOBILES ARE USED AS TARGETS

C. Sergi of Allenport Stops Machines on the Highway Between Stockdale and Allenport, Shooting Holes Through Them

MAN'S ESCAPE IS NARROW

No Less Than Six Bullets Discharged Through His Car. Fortunately None Hitting Him—Sergi is Also Accused of Threatening to Kill Wife

C. Sergi, aged about 45 years, who resides at Stockdale, is being held at the Stockdale jail on a charge of disorderly conduct, and maybe a preferred charge of a threat to kill her may be made by his wife. Sergi was arrested by Burgess William Graesser of Stockdale after he is alleged to have been making targets of passing automobiles last night on the highway between Stockdale and Allenport.

According to report Sergi, who is a laborer, disappeared from his home in Stockdale about two or three weeks ago, and his wife and family could give no account of his whereabouts, or reason for his disappearance. He returned suddenly yesterday. Some time during the afternoon Sergi is alleged to have chased his wife and family out of doors at the point of a 38-calibre revolver, and Mrs. Sergi alleges that he threatened to kill her. Last night he is said to have stopped several automobiles on the highway between Stockdale and Allenport by shooting at the machines as they passed, and then making a search of the automobiles but taking naught from any of them. One of the men stopped, after Sergi had fired at his machine, was William Schultz of Roscoe. Sergi is alleged to have fired no less than six bullets through the car of Schultz, fortunately none of the bullets hitting him. The time was about 7 o'clock. The arrest of Sergi was effected by Burgess Graesser at 8:30 o'clock.

There is some question as to Sergi's sanity. He told Burgess Graesser that he had been bothered with his head. It is said that Sergi has ever been a peaceable, hard-working man—a common laborer, who has worked and supported his wife and family minus any friction whatsoever. Just why he disappeared two or three weeks ago is not known, and his return was as mysterious as his disappearance.

After the man had chased his wife and family from their home, they came to Charleroi and spent the afternoon returning in the evening.

EFFORTS ARE TO BE MADE TO WIN SOULS

Washington, October 4—Jesus sent his disciples out two by two to win the world.

Getting back to Jesus' plan, thousands of congregations will send their members two by two into their neighborhoods to win them to Christ. This movement is part of a great concerted and systematic campaign throughout the county to promote interest in church attendance and church membership. These workers will go into the homes of their communities as far as possible, inviting their friends and neighbors to come to church, to enlist as members and to join in its work.

The joint evangelistic campaign, which is being launched this fall by many communities under the leadership of the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches, will continue through the winter and spring till Easter. Men and women all over the United States are urged by the Federal Council to train for their effort. They will work under the pastors of their local churches.

"Unusual interest is being taken by local congregations throughout

WATCH PLACED ON A NEW HIGHWAY

Township and state police are maintaining a nightly vigil on the new highway between Stockdale and Allenport, just across the river from Monongahela, which since its improvement provides a concrete straightway along the entire stretch and is being used as a speedway. Several arrests have been made and the offenders prosecuted.

The campaign against these speeders and reckless drivers will continue under the direction of the township officers until the practice is broken up. Hundreds of coal miners and their families live along the road and the danger of the children is great.

CHARLES SCHWAB HONOR GUEST OF HOMESTEAD

Charles M. Schwab, who directed the vast operations of the Homestead steel works 30 years ago, will be the honor guest at a celebration under the auspices of the Homestead Chamber of Commerce October 10. Over 350 citizens, many of whom worked under "Charley" will act as a reception committee when he arrives. His visit to Homestead is for the purpose of reviewing old friendships, and shaking hands with 1,000 veterans of the mill.

In honor of Schwab the day will be turned into a sort of holiday with parades and speeches and reception. Whether Sergi was still obsessed with the desire to kill Mrs. Sergi, thinking his wife and family might be occupants of passing cars, has been projected as a possible solution for his shooting at them. Another contention is that Sergi is unbalanced, possibly suffering from mental aberration.

the country," said Dr. Charles L. Goodell, secretary of the Commission. "Churches will first make an effort to get all their members out to services on Sunday, October 5, and on all succeeding Sundays. At the same time they will strive to win the interest of those not connected with any church. The object of the campaign is to further the spirit of worship and devotion. The first Sunday in October will be observed as Rally Sunday. This date was suggested because it had already been decided upon by several communities. The movement is a challenge to the pastors to reach their communities.

"Christian men and women will visit the entire community. These visitors will welcome back those who have been away during the summer. They will urge those who have become indifferent to the Church to return, and will invite those outside into its fellowship. They are to go out two by two as the first seventy disciples were sent by Christ. The campaign will come to a climax with a great ingathering at Easter."

Brakeman Is Badly Hurt In A Fall

H. A. Maliga, aged 28, of Brownsville, a brakeman employed at the Shire Oaks scale of the Pennsylvania railroad, was seriously injured yesterday.

He was thrown from a gondola as the train sped down a long grade in the yards. The brakes would not hold and when the car crashed into others at the foot of the hill the impact threw Maliga from the platform down between two cars. He suffered a broken collar bone. He was taken to the Memorial hospital and later to his home.

Mrs. Morris H. Noble, of 130 McKean avenue, Donora, a former resident of East Main street Monongahela, fell at the Monongahela post-office last evening at 6 o'clock and broke her ankle. Mrs. Noble was descending the interior steps of the office and as she neared the bottom her ankle turned, a bone being broken. She was removed to the Memorial hospital, but later she was taken to her home at Donora.

The petition for a charter asked by the Charleroi Home Building Company, was granted by Governor Gifford Pinchot on Thursday, October 2. This charter was granted for the privilege desired by the company to coordinate and operate for building purposes as homes, the plot of ground consisting of 27 acres known as the Spha-McKean equity. Engineers are now working on the project of laying out the plan of lots, and it is inferred that the building of homes will be a matter of great industry on the plot of ground in the spring at the latest. The directors of the company are: J. B. Schafer, Walter Byerly, G. W. Might, Herbert W. Daly, R. H. Rush, R. Carl Mounster, S. L. Woodward, Louis Collins, Robert Sphaer. The company is capitalized at $150,000.

MASKED BANDIT HOLDS UP HUCKSTER TO THE TUNE OF $250

A Donora huckster, Jacob Tomdo, reported to the Donora police last night that he had been held up and robbed on the Turkey Hollow road at 10 o'clock last night while he was returning home in his truck, after spending the day selling grapes. The result of the day's sales, was taken from him. As the truck turned a curve in the road, a masked bandit flashed a light in his face, and at the point of a revolver demanded his money. After securing the money, the bandit made his escape. Tomdo returned immediately to his home town and reported to the police, who are searching for the bandit.

PIKE REPAIRS ARE CRITICISED

At a meeting of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, held Monday evening, the secretary was authorized to take up with the State Highway Department at Harrisburg the conditions which exist along the National pike between Brownsville and Washington.

ed concerning the terrible condition of the highway between these two points particularly in the vicinity of Scenery Hill. Reports received in Brownsville were to the effect that 300 cars were mired in the detour near the latter place during the rain of the past few days, and the detourment came in for a great deal of criticism for beginning the work at a time when winter was sure to hinder the progress of construction. Busses running between Brownsville and Washington are from two to three hours late every day.

The road between Brownsville and Washington was regarded by tourists as one of the best in the state until it was torn up during the summer. The concrete road is only 18 feet wide, while the macadam road was from 25 to 30 feet wide, for alongside the macadam was level dirt road that had been well worn and was hard. In replacing with concrete, the grades have been changed so that if a traveler gets off the concrete he is precipitated in many places down an embankment varying from one and two feet to five feet.

The concrete road between Brownsville and Uniontown also came in for severe criticism, as it gives the traveler less room than the old road did. This section was protested by Uniontown motorists, but it had no effect on the State Highway Department.

Chamber Has 593 Persons In Membership

An unique feature in connection with the meeting of the Washington Chamber of Commerce last night, at which officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year was the showing of a condensed form of the report of the Chamber of Commerce for the past year and of the results of the recent visitation week. The report showed a total membership of 593 and receipts for the year of $16,633. The expenses were $16,114, leaving a balance in the treasury of $538.87.

At the conclusion of the reading, Miss Jones was presented with the prize, $10 in gold, by President Frank H. Bethel. The essay was warmly commended by members of the Chamber of Commerce and Miss Jones was heartily applauded when she completed its reading and again when she came forward to receive the prize.

Commissioners of Fayette And Washington Counties Meet At Structure And Find Two Piers To Be Settling

THE COST TO BE DIVIDED

Structure Still Open For Traffic, And Will Not Be Closed Until Necessary — It Will Cost From $90,000 to $125,000 to Fix the Bridge, Reported

The Belle Vernon-Speers bridge, which spans the Monongahela river one mile south of here, is falling, according to word of officials of Fayette and Washington counties. The commissioners of both counties met at the bridge yesterday, and went over the structure. They found two piers to be settling which may result in the bridge collapsing at any time. They decided to tear down the falling piers, the cost of which is to be divided between the counties, and the work will be started as soon as possible. The cost of repairs will amount to approximately from $90,000 to $125,000.

The piers have been known to be settling for some time, the one on the Fayette county side being the first to begin settling. However, the one on the Washington county side is also settling now, thus demanding immediate repairs. A diver was employed two weeks ago to examine the piers at the river bed. He found that the ground surrounding them had been washed away, and owing to the constant heavy traffic the bridge's braces are being continuously weakened. This bridge, which is an important connecting link at this point, was thrown open for traffic in 1895, and was not built for the heavy traffic of today. It is a light bridge, and has withstood the constant wear and tear on it throughout the past years very well, but will have to be reinforced to withstand the present traffic.

A contract for the improvements will be let as soon as possible and work started as soon as the contract is let. The bridge is still open for traffic, and will not be closed until necessary.

THE BASEBALL SCANDAL.
The latest baseball scandal, involving a player and a coach of the game, electrified the baseball world, who had about recovered from the scandal involving the White Sox a few years ago.
Baseball as a sport is called the National game, and numbers among its followers men of every rank and station. The veriest urchin can tell you who is the champion batter in the National league, and who hits the ball the hardest in the American league. Baseball is a game to the American people, irrespective of age and class distinction.
Despite its popularity and the cleanliness of the sport, there is a gambling element who are trying their best to wreck the game, as they are wrecking human characters. They pick out whom they opine would be the most gullible, and connive with the weak-kneed player to betray the game and what it represents. What the game needs is better protection from Uncle Sam, and a little of the getting away from its commercialization.
The future of baseball is at stake.

THE OFFICE CAT

A kick in the punch is worth two in the pants.
Kind Lady—What is your name, little boy?
Boy—Joshua Shadrach Lemuel Totts.
Kind Lady—Well, who gave you that name?
Boy—I dunno yet, but I'll find out some day.
The Kansas sheriff that discovered a still in a cave forty feet deep should acquire quite a reputation for getting to the bottom of things.
My girl has divine eyes. They're crossed.
Citizen (thunderously)—What are you doing over there?
Neighbor—Beating up my wife.
Citizen (excitedly)—May I come over and see how it's done?

STRONG ENOUGH.
What was the reason for the invention of twin beds, asked a new furniture salesman of one of the girl employees.
Onions, sir, she said.

HELPFUL ADVICE.
I don't know how in the nation to keep that child's clothes clean, flustered exclaimed Mrs. Tatters.
Take 'em off and let the little cuss run around naked, suggested Ragson Tatters.

A chat without a few little morsels of scandal is like a breakfast without coffee.
Witty little chorus girl sitting on the beach,
Along comes a chappie, saying "You're a peach!"
"I may be that," she replied, starting in to frown.
"But it would take a better man than you to shake me down."

Beauty doctors who perfected a lipstick that does not rub off, might win even more gratitude from a class if they would invent a powder that has no affinity for a coat lapel.

Why are you lugging home that expensive box of candy?
Just playing safe. My wife kissed me this morning, so I think it must be her birthday or wedding anniversary.
Take this, my boy, and remember it.
Why are you so sure you are a nut?

A job with a chance to improve and advance,
Is better than one that pays money.
So look for a job with a future head.
Seek a chance to grow greater and better.
Find a place where you know you will grow.
The money will come to you.

Davies Defeats Roberts In A Thrilling Bout At Clarksburg, W. Va.

In the Carmichael Auditorium, Clarksburg, W. Va., last night, Willie Davies, the sensational Roscoe boxer, added another victory to his list, when he defeated Pete Roberts of Wheeling, W. Va., in an exciting 10-round bout. Davies was too fast for the popular little Wheeling lad, taking eight of the 10 rounds. The bout was witnessed by one of the largest crowds that ever saw a boxing tournament in Clarksburg. This was Davies' second victory in the home of the Democratic nominee for president, and he is very popular with the friends there. Efforts will be made to match him again in the near future with some real classy flyweight.
Johnny McFeeley and Young Cutsey of this place amused and entertained the crowd with their burlesque stunts.

BELIEVED RECENT UPHEAVAL WILL UNNERVE GIANTS

Baseball's big annual classic between the pennant-winning Washington Americans and New York Giants is scheduled to open today at 2 o'clock. The capital city is jammed with fans, pop-eyed in anticipation of the first world series battle ever waged within the monumental District of Columbia.
Unfortunately the all-important struggles will be inaugurated under a cloud and the leading topic at numerous hotels where followers of the great diamond pastime are herded is the scandal which loomed up almost on the eve of the titular engagements.

While Outfielder Jimmy O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan have been permanently exiled from the ranks of organized ball on a charge of having made efforts to induce a Philadelphia player to "throw" a game, it is evident from statements of Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis that he feels perfectly satisfied that others are mixed up in the alleged plot and a most searching investigation is already under way.
The general belief is that the discovery of crookedness among the New York players is bound to have a discouraging effect upon the work of the Giants. The public is wrought up to a high pitch of disgust over the incident and it is a safe guess that when the polo grounds forces march upon the field for the opening clash, at least some, if not all of them, will be targets for a wild outburst of razzing. It will require nerves of steel to pass through this ordeal without becoming slightly upset.

Outside Griffith Stadium, Washington, October 4.—Far as the eye could see through the swirling, early mists from the Potomac stretched a seemingly endless line of humanity today. Its head was pressed against the bleacher gates, its tail gathering fans like a vacuum cleaner, sucking them from every street, and street car, from firevans and a hundred fancier vehicles, drawing them with the irresistible lure of Washington's first world's series.

The present series may set no new records for baseball, but those for enthusiastic fandom are already shattered beyond repair.

MONON WINS FIRST GAME ON NEW GRIDIRON

Interception of a forward pass by Captain Smith, of the Monongahela High eleven, and his spectacular dash of 40 yards for a touchdown, permitted the Monongahela athletes to dedicate their fine new athletic field with a 7 to 3 victory over Bellevue High school of Pittsburgh, at Monongahela yesterday afternoon.

Bellevue had taken the lead in the struggle which had seen-sawed back and forth without either team scoring early in the fourth period when McKissock, quarterback, made a placement kick from the 30-yard line.

With the contest entering into the final minutes of play, it seemed that Monongahela was due to meet defeat in its opening game of the present season and in the first game played on its new field until Captain Smith, who was the outstanding star of the contest, turned in his pretty run.

The game attracted a crowd of between 2,500 and 3,000 scholastic fans from various parts of the Monongahela valley. The students of the school paraded headed by the school band and held brief opening ceremonies upon their arrival at the field. The summary:

BARNEY DREYFUSS, IN FIGHTING MOOD, INSISTS ON PROBE

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 4.—In a fighting mood, Barney Dreyfuss, Pirate owner, has gone to Washington to force a deeper probe into the baseball scandal that resulted in the expulsion of Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan.

Though referred to as a "crackpot" and advised to "keep your shirt on," Dreyfuss thinks many more are involved in the bribe offer and plans to hold a meeting of the baseball magnates to be held in Washington today or tomorrow.

At first, aroused when his published statements that the world series should be called off, were ignored, Barney had planned not to go, intending his absence as a sort of silent protest.

"But I changed my mind," said Dreyfuss, "and if anyone wants to start something with me, I'll be glad to give them all the satisfaction they want."

"If this thing is not cleared up properly and to the entire satisfaction of the public, I will be in favor of eliminating the world series for a time at least, as a growing menace to the best interests of the game."

"The series is being made into too much of a big circus or show and in view of the present trend of things, it has become a growing menace."

Referring to that pugnacious gentleman, the "master mind" of the Giants, who called him a "crackpot," Barney said this:

"McGraw says I am still sore about the Pirate defeat in 1921. If all that happened in 1921 had been exposed, McGraw might not look very good. McGraw should be the last person to refer to 1921. But I am not going to talk about what happened then."

Outside Griffith Stadium, Washington, October 4.—Far as the eye could see through the swirling, early mists from the Potomac stretched a seemingly endless line of humanity today. Its head was pressed against the bleacher gates, its tail gathering fans like a vacuum cleaner, sucking them from every street, and street car, from firevans and a hundred fancier vehicles, drawing them with the irresistible lure of Washington's first world's series.

them—an hour before the center field bleachers were to receive them in the first frantic rush. It was a colorful throng. At least every third one in line was colored.

The first man in line—he had been there since 12:30 p. m., Friday—was Charles W. Bell, an employee of the Veterans' Bureau here. Poking a blue nose from out his turned up coat collar, he picked the Nationals (as they insist on calling the Senators down here) to win.

To Fort Wayne, Ind., went the honor of supplying the second man, G. F. Horstman. He, too, was for Washington.

Then came three from Charleston, S. C.—P. C. Byers, J. J. Fraine and John Jennings. And they, too, were for Washington.

On soap boxes and camp stools, with improvised entertainment and nondescript nourishment, these hardier of the enthusiasts saw it through. Others gathered in numerous others.

The line grew. Like a living serpent, each vertebra a fan—red hot inside and darned cold outside—it wound down one street, around a corner and up another. By the time it had meandered half a dozen blocks in this fashion, with the last man almost as far away from the gates as though he never had started, someone bethought himself to start another line.

McGUIRE PULLS ANOTHER; K. O. FERRY STOPPED

Staging a dramatic comeback after being dropped for a count of two in the second round, Bert Schneider, Canadian welterweight champion, last night defeated Jimmy Muche, Niles, O., at Johnstown. It was a sizzling bout all the way through, and a real test of stamina. The first four and last three rounds teemed with rapid fire action. Referee Barney McGuire was called upon to make the decision after one judge had voted in favor of a draw and the other had named Muche as winner and he astounded the fans by awarding Schneider the verdict. It is hard to conceive how he reached this decision, as a draw would have been most satisfactory, with Muche favored if a decision was necessary.

Bobby Amster of Johnstown further demonstrated his terrific punching power in winning his second knockout in as many bouts in the Flood City. His victim was K. O. Ferry of McKeesport, the Tube City lad being dropped by a hard right in the second round. Ferry took a count of nine in the first round, and was clearly outclassed.

Tony Tortoise of Elizabeth, and Joe Shurra of Pittsburgh, cuffed each other around in a rough manner for six rounds, at the end of which the judges reached another weird decision, terming it a draw. Tortoise appeared to have the better of the heated argument.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge, with an official party of seven will be honored guests at the game and Mr. Coolidge will, of course, pitch the first ball.

The president's program today runs something like this: Up early and attend to routine work of the office.

One of the popular new fall fabrics is illustrated in this simple little frock of black crepe. It has patch pockets embroidered in wool, and the overlapping collar is lined with silk.

Have you looked over the West Coast today? It will pay you.

In Society's Realm

The annual Halloween party of the Episcopal church will be held Tuesday evening, October 7 at the home of Mrs. Freeman Johnson of Shady avenue. Each member is requested to bring a friend. The hostesses for the evening are Mesdames Johnson, Provins, Laverick, Saylers, Chrispen and Dorrycott.

A number of friends of Mrs. Frank G. Holroyd, a recent bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Maund of McKean avenue, gathered at the home of Miss Freda Walenta of Lincoln avenue last evening and presented her with many beautiful and useful gifts. There were twenty-five guests present from Charleroi, Monongahela and West Newton. An evening of enjoyment and merry-making was spent in playing various games and music followed by the serving of a delicious luncheon by the hostess with the assistance of her mother.

Mrs. Henry Grammer of Fallowfield avenue, entertained the members of the Merry Menders club at her home Thursday evening with every member present and one visitor, Mrs. Eva Kirkwood of New Kensington. Sewing and social converse were the main diversions of the evening, followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Stopp, Jr. Adjournment was made at a late hour, to meet again at the home of Mrs. Matthew Giordanengo of Meadow avenue, Thursday, October 9.

An interesting meeting of the Anchor class of First Christian church was held last evening with twenty members present. Mrs. Long, mother of Rev. W. M. Long, pastor of the church, resigned as teacher of the class and Mrs. Carl Corwin was elected to fill the vacancy. The class decided to put on a play in January and to secure the services of Prof. Earl A. Brame as director. Plans were discussed for a bazaar to be held the 5 and 6 of December and the members spent the time in sewing and fancy work in preparation for it. They also decided to hold a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. James Jacobs of Seventh street the latter part of the month. At a late hour luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Elizabeth Holder, Mrs. S. K. Scott, Mrs. Aaron Stahlman and Mrs. Harry Stech.

LESSONS FOR LIGHTING TO BE PUBLISHED

Beginning, Monday, October 6, there will be published in the Mail three lessons a week under the direction of the National Lighting Educational Committee for the purpose of securing better illumination in the home.

The lessons, which will appear every other day, are running in conjunction with the Home Lighting Essay contest that is being conducted in the schools this month. In the lessons there will be given valuable information as to the correct lighting in the home, not only from a more artistic standpoint, but also to conserve the vision. It is the duty of every resident of the town to read the lessons and to thus add materially to their knowledge of illumination in their homes.

COLLEEN MOORE AS A STAGE VAMP

Colleen Moore, the "Flaming Youth Girl," the acknowledged perfect flapper of the screen, has turned her back on hoydenish flapper roles for the time being. In "Flirting With Love," the comedy drama of stage life, coming to the Majestic Monday and Tuesday, next week, she demonstrates that she is just as much at home in parts calling for emotional dramatic acting as she is in roles of lighter vein.

In this First National picture versatile Colleen shares the co-starring honors with Conway Tearle and is supported by a well-balanced cast, containing such names as Winifred Bryson, Frances Raymond, John Patrick, Alan Roscoe, William Gould and Marga La Rubia.

Miss Moore enacts the role of a highly temperamental actress, a star in musical comedies the success of which has been based on the risqué nature of their plot. Her new show is closed through the instrumentality of a stage reformer, a part played by Mr. Tearle. The actress pretends to lose her memory and wanders into the home of the reformer, who also is a student of psychology, planning to deceive him into believing that she is a subject for psychological study and then to ridicule him publicly.

Miss Moore's part calls for a difficult type of acting, for throughout the play she really enacts two roles—that of the temperamental actress and that of the "amnesiac victim," a demure, modest and shy young woman, the antithesis of the blase stage performer.

Let toned sunlight mellow your color scheme

NO one with any decorative sense tolerates glaring electric lamps in a room. You cover these lamps with exquisite soft-hued materials, and as if by magic even the most modest room seems drenched with an atmosphere of elegance. Sunlight should be treated in exactly the same fashion.

This can be done by using window shades in the beautiful new tone-colors. These colors tone the sunlight, throwing a glamour over the furnishings and weaving everything in the room into a pleasing symphony of color.

Wealthy, but Without Power to Enjoy Life

"Now that you've got me talking," said a retired business man of St. Louis, who is going to Europe, "I might as well admit that I'm not having as much fun out of being what you'd call comfortably fixed financially as I looked forward to in my hard-working days.

"I suppose a good many old fellows would admit they are in the same fix if their pride would let them. I worked too hard, not hard enough to kill me or wear me out, but too hard to form a taste for the best things that money can buy.

"The lesson my experience has taught me is that keeping your shoulder to the wheel and pushing ahead, looking neither to the right nor left, and so forth, is not a complete set of directions for making a success in life.

"The rules may get a bank account for a fellow without unusual gifts, but they overlook too many things that count.

"I can't get settled down to a book. I can't sit through a play with any keenness in it, and I've even neglected to learn how to make myself agreeable in company, mixed or just men. Yet I had all that stuff in me when I was a kid—used to read a lot, in fact.

"Take my advice, and if you ever get the money-making bee, don't let it get you, for, unless you're a world-beater, no matter how well you make out, you won't be the same to the head of the list."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
